

On June 1, 2019, Children’s Museum of Atlanta’s Celebrate! program series will culminate in United Nations of Play, a day-long special event that introduces international cultures and travel-themed concepts through art, science, food, performances, and immersive exhibition experiences.

Play is rooted in the development of democratic societies and is a universal entry point for learning. In today’s increasingly interconnected world, children can learn through play to become globally conscious citizens. Children’s Museum of Atlanta is here to make this possible for all children.
